TO: Organising Committee of the Eurasian Energy Summit

Dear delegates,

It is a great pleasure to address the delegates and guests of the Eurasian Energy Summit and to wish you all a successful and productive conference.

The Summit is a further development of the Sino-Russo-Kazakh Oil and Gas Forum. Previous Forums were very successful not only in effectively sharing industry-relevant information but also in providing practical recommendations and facilitating deals between Kazakh, Chinese and Russian participants.

The Summit provides a unique opportunity to establish new and strengthen existing business relations, to solidify your position in the market. Discussions and meetings during the Summit's events will contribute to further development of mutually beneficial cooperation and implementation of new projects.
